ANTI-NASSER PLOT LAID TO THE C.I.A

Cairo Paper Charges Agency Seeks to Wreck Regime

> By HEDRICK SMITH Special to The New York Times

owned newspaper Al Gomhouria charged today that a "major dream" of the United Central Intelligence States Agency was to wreck the regime of President Gamal Abdel Nasser and replace it "with a stooge and traitor regime" that would do its bidding in the Arab world.

In one of three articles attacking the United States, the nowspaper asserted that the newspaper -asserted C.I.A. believed that the Egyptian/ leadership "must be de-stroyed by any means even if that involves resorting to assassination."

Another article alleged that Secretary of State Dean Rusk "was a C.I.A. officer with the houria articles had some official rank of colonel in 1943"—before sanction since the Government the agency was founded. The article added that Phillips Tal-South Asian Affairs, had a over the future of American aid to the United Arab Republic, the C.I.A." than with the State Department.

The activities of the agency main commentary declared, "will only lead to total separa-tion from America."

States ever piblished here. It and through which the C.I.A. followed by eight days the ar-, could carry out its policy in the rest of a prominent Cairo pub-; United Arab Republic first and lisher and editor, Mustafa Amin, then in the rest of the Arab who has been accused of being world." a C.I.A. agent.

and briefly at Georgetown Uni-versity in the nineteen-thirties "changed nearly 10 different while his father was Minister ambassadors" to Cairo since the of the Egyptian Legation in 1952 coup that brought the

CPYRGHT

T. Odell, who was lunching with Mr. Anin at the time of his arrest, was labeled by the Cairo press as Mr. Amin's C.I.A. contact and has since left the country for transfer.

The case has touched off a wave of rumors here and has made many Egyptians, long wary about associations with foreigners, more jittery than ever about seeing Americans.

Two Egyptian journalists who were lunching with two United States Embassy officials on the day of Mr. Amin's arrest were seriously advised by their seriously friends to keep it a secret. Others made a point of informing their superiors whenever they saw American officials, Daniel Garcia, the new embassy press officer, has had a difficult time paying his first, courtesy calls because of the jitters of newsmen. Several excused themselves from appointments.

It was not clear whether the articles in Al Gomhouria were officially inspired since neither of Cairo's two other major dailies joined in the attack.

However, most outside observers assumed that the Gomhouria articles had some official controls the press closely and has for several weeks had a

One of today's articles, by Mamdouh Reda, an extreme letiist, charged that the C.I.A. had "for several years" harbored "a major dream of wrecking the national government and re-One of Strongest Attacks placing it with a stooge and The attack was one of the training that would action a strongest against the United cept becoming a tool in its hands

The article alleged that the Mr. Amin was educated at agency had "interfered in shap-American University in Cairo, ing relations" between Cairo Washington. Masser regime to power.

FOIAb3b

CPYRGHT